Prudent intimacy coordinator with a solid 4-year acting education in film/TV and theater. With her diverse experience as an agent, production assistant, coach, and screenwriter, Marla brings a unique perspective. Trained with “Intimacy Directors and Coordinators” (IDC) and set to receive certification from the “Intimacy Professionals Association” (IPA) in December, she is dedicated to creating a safe, respectful environment that empowers consent while uplifting performances in intimate scenes. As a mental health first aider, Marla supports performers' emotional well being while passionately advocating for the LGBTQ+ community and promoting diversity; she continuously strives to learn, improve herself, and enhance inclusivity and representation for all in creative spaces.
